My strong belief is that all of us should try to fulfill our personal goals and aspirations. The completion of an MBA program specialized in Human Resources Management has been for many years my personal "hidden" goal. Critical step for my professional carrier was the selection of PANTIOS UNIVERSITY of ATHENS from which I completed my studies in the field of Public Administration and Political Sciences. My first job was not very close to my studies and under a lot of personal efforts and continuing I grasped every learning opportunity that I could. For example a second bachelor degree in managing insurance companies and an other qualification title as " Quality Manager " from the EUROPEAN QUALITY ORGANIZATION /EQO. Eventually I succeeded to fill the place of Organization and Methods as also Human Resources director in a well known Insurance Company. After this working experience that lasted nine years, I decided to follow a free lancer career and approx for the last fifteen years I am senior management consultant. I have my personal "small" in size but fortunately "big" in customers Consultancy Company under the name "EUROEXCELLENCE". EUROEXCELLENCE has two equal "co-partners" and many external partners in order to cover the requests for training and consulting in management issues from our customers.

Personally I am specialized in Quality Standards and Business Excellence Models such as EFQM Excellence Model, EUROPEAN BUSINESS ETHICS NETWORK (EBEN) MODEL and also, recently I was trained for being INVESTORS IN PEOPLE/IIP advisor and lately IIP assessor. Unfortunately the continuing lack of time under a series of stressful and very demanding projects (that as every one can understand never end), the acquisition of a MBA degree remained for me as I have already said a "hidden" goal.

Hidden desires cause many unpleasant symptoms and the knowledge of this as an undisputable fact pushed me to search the College that could offer me a valuable experience not only in the field of knowledge but in areas such as: environment, flexibility, friendly approach, variety of covered studies etc.

NYC succeeded to cover all my expectations and offered me not only a very good title of MBA program, very useful to my job, but also offered me the opportunity to exchange ideas and experiences with my colleagues and experienced professors. Many of my professors (Kotzamanis, Protopappa, Papadimitriou, Vlangou) will remain unforgettable for their scope of knowledge and moreover for their "ΗΘΟΣ". I undoubtedly recommend NYC to any potential customer (student or professional) and I say to NYC Management team "Keep working hard and facilitate us to keep alive our personal experiences".
